

Mount Angel Abbey Tailor - Full-time, Benefited position

“A monastery is the place where monks live, work and pray.” Sometimes you hear it called an Abbey. Benedictines call themselves “monks” and live in a monastery.

The Tailor is responsible for sewing, maintaining the design, manufacture, maintenance and mending of habits and cucullas, as well as tending to other Monastery tailoring needs such as mending Sacristy vestments. The following is not an all-inclusive list, which may include:

- Follows established procedures in the comprehensive management of the tailoring process from start to finish.
- Maintains master pattern muslin mock ups and matching paper patterns to streamline the process of creating custom-fit habits.
- Maintains precise records and data, allowing for long-term evaluation of materials, methods and wear patterns and tracking of habits through creation, alteration, reassignment and destruction.
