

Big Horn Brass

Featured performer at the Abbey Bach Festival 2019

Founded by Andrew Harris in 1983, Big Horn Brass is recognized as a premier large brass ensemble from the Pacific Northwest.

With a vision to produce inspirational music that enriches the lives of performers and audiences alike, the ensemble infuses ingenuity and authenticity with genuine artistry resulting in music that transcends time and transports the listener. A Big Horn Brass program is guaranteed to inspire, put a smile on your face, and keep your toes tapping. You will appreciate the quality of performance, be inspired by the repertoire, and moved by the enthusiasm of the performers.

The hallmarks of a Big Horn Brass performance are diversity and originality. Programs may include music from classical, romantic, renaissance, twentieth century, and contemporary. Styles include ragtime, marches, brass band, patriotic, civil war, movie themes from Walt Disney and John Williams, contemporary, original, and even big band charts. They also feature commissioned works that are unique and fun.

The performers are professional musicians from the Pacific Northwest. They combine their diverse musical skills and love of music with exacting perfection.
